

the Department of the Interior, Bureau of Ocean Energy Management on the occasion of her departure from the Bureau's Office of Congressional Affairs.

Ms. Haenny is ending her federal service to join her husband, Jeremy Haenny, a Staff Sergeant in the U.S. Air Force, who was deployed three times to Afghanistan and recently transferred to the State of Washington.

Ms. Haenny distinguished herself through exceptional service while serving as a Congressional Liaison for the Bureau's Office of Congressional Affairs. Many Members of this chamber and our staffs have had the pleasure of working with Ms. Haenny over her four-and-a-half years of service with the Bureau.

Every day she provided key support for not only the Bureau and the Department of the Interior but also in assisting every Member of Congress and the constituents they serve. During her time in the Liaison office, Mrs. Haenny was instrumental in ensuring successful communication that kept Members of this body informed of the Bureau's activities in managing the nation's vital offshore energy resources, both renewable and conventional, in a way that ensures environmentally and economically responsible development. Her keen abilities in organization and interpersonal relationships were critical to the timely and successful communications with this body on the mission and program operations of the Bureau of Ocean Energy Management.

I would like to express my deepest appreciation to Mr. and Mrs. Haenny for their exemplary service to our nation. I wish them safe travels and continued success in this new endeavor.

HONORING BUD CLARK

HON. JOHN J. DUNCAN, JR.

OF TENNESSEE

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, May 17, 2012

Mr. DUNCAN of Tennessee. Mr. Speaker, I wish today to honor a longtime friend and community servant from my District.

William Clark, Jr., or Bud as he was known by everyone, passed away recently at the age of 78.

Bud was born in Flint, Michigan, and lived most of his life in that state. Following business school at the University of Michigan, he went to work in the automobile industry and had a very successful career in management at General Motors.

East Tennessee—and my District in particular—has become one of the most popular places to move to in the entire country because of its incredible quality of life. I first met Bud when, like many others from his home state, he moved to Tennessee to retire.

Although he was not a Tennessean by birth, Bud quickly became more involved in the community than almost anyone I know. He undoubtedly touched the lives of hundreds of people in my District in many positive ways.

Bud became active in the American Legion Post 120 and 256, served in the Loudon County Veterans Honor Guard, the Loudon County Republican Party, the Piney Ruritan Club, the GM Club of Tellico Village, Friends of the Tellico Village Library and was a member of First Baptist Church of Tellico Village.

I have nothing but the highest respect and regard for anyone who serves this country in the Armed Forces, and Bud did so admirably during the Korean War from 1951–1953. He was a very patriotic American who loved this country very much.

I offer my condolences to Bud's wife of 34 years, Connie; daughters, Kim, Karin, Kris, and Keri; 5 grandchildren, 2 great grandchildren, 3 brothers and 2 sisters.

Mr. Speaker, I will remember Bud Clark as a good family man with a deep faith in God. I urge my Colleagues and other readers of the RECORD to join me in recognizing the many contributions he made to my District. This Nation is a better place because of his service and example.

VIOLENCE AGAINST WOMEN REAUTHORIZATION ACT OF 2012

SPEECH OF

HON. KATHY CASTOR

OF FLORIDA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, May 16, 2012

Ms. CASTOR of Florida. Madam Speaker, I rise in opposition to the Rule and urge a “no” vote on the flawed bill my Republican colleagues will bring to the floor. They had an opportunity to bring the bipartisan Senate Violence Against Women Act, but chose not to.

The Violence Against Women Act has been bipartisan and noncontroversial for almost 20 years now. The update passed the Senate on a bipartisan basis just last month.

Why does everything have to be a partisan fight? Over the past year, my Republican colleagues in the House have blocked an important jobs package, stalled the national transportation and infrastructure bill, dragged their feet on help for students and the impending increase in the student loan rate, and now they have turned what has been a bipartisan effort to protect the victims of domestic violence into a senseless political fight.

Republicans would not even allow debate on any amendments so we could address its flaws.

In fact, their legislation not only rolls back longstanding, bipartisan provisions, but it leaves out protections for our LGBT community, Native American women and immigrants.

Unlike the bipartisan Senate version, the House Republican bill does not include a provision prohibiting any Violence Against Women Act funds from discriminating against anyone based on their sexual orientation.

The House Republican bill also does not include language explicitly including the LGBT community in the “STOP Grant program” that provides funds to domestic violence service providers.

Studies have shown that the LGBT victims face discrimination when accessing domestic violence services.

We should be working towards stronger domestic violence protections for the LGBT community—not trying to exclude them from domestic violence protections, as the Republican bill would do.

One in four women will experience domestic violence in her lifetime. Many of these domestic assaults go unreported by the victims for fear of retaliation by their abuser.

Immigrant victims are oftentimes the most vulnerable to this cycle because their abusers use their immigration status as a tool to manipulate and control them.

That is why in the 1994 Violence Against Women Act Congress included the “self-petition” provision to ensure that immigrant victims of domestic violence could leave their abuser without fear of losing legal status.

The Republican bill would delay and deny that protection for many immigrant victims.

In my home state of Florida there were 113,378 crimes of domestic violence reported in 2010.

If the Republican bill were to pass, more domestic violence crimes would go unreported, more abusers would be free, and more victims would be harmed.

More children, families, and women would be at risk of continued abuse by their abuser.

This bill works in opposition to the very purpose of the legislation—to protect victims of domestic violence.

Not just some victims—all victims.

So advocates across the country who are on the front lines in aiding women and victims everyday have announced their opposition. Please defeat the rule, so that we can call up the bipartisan, improved version from the Senate.

IN MEMORY OF EDWARD MALLOY

HON. PETER T. KING

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, May 17, 2012

Mr. KING of New York. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor and acknowledge Ed Malloy, who tragically passed away on May 16.

Mr. Malloy was a committed labor leader who served as president of the New York City and New York State Building and Construction Trades council and was a vice president of the New York State AFL–CIO. He was a former steamfitter and a veteran of the U.S. Army who proudly served as Grand Marshal of the 2001 St. Patrick's Day Parade. I was proud to call him my friend.

Ed selflessly dedicated his own life to improving those of the working men and women of New York. He promoted private economic development and public works projects that cut costs and created countless jobs throughout the State. Following the tragic events of 9/11, he heroically led his members in the cleanup and rebuilding of the site.

Ed Malloy's contributions to the State of New York will endure for years to come. My thoughts and prayers are with his members, family and friends. He will truly be missed.
